

CRLT offers programs and services designed to support graduate students and postdocs in all stages of their teaching careers from training for their first teaching experiences through preparation for the academic job market. CRLT's services are generally open to all graduate students and postdocs, whether or not they are teaching. For information about other programs on campus to support graduate students in all aspects of their work, visit the Rackham Graduate School website for current students.

Programs and Resources for New GSIs

These are some of our programs that are especially useful for beginning GSIs, though many of them will be helpful throughout your graduate career.

Campus-wide GSI Teaching Orientation

Engineering Orientation

ELI/CRLT Courses

GSI Guidebook

GSI Guidebook for Teaching Labs

Certificate programs:

U-M Graduate Teacher Certificate (GTC)

GTC+, certificate in teaching with digital media, co-sponsored by the Institute for the Humanities

Web Resources for GSIs

Seminars for Graduate Students and Postdoctoral Scholars

CRLT offers a regular schedule of workshops on various topics. See our events listings for upcoming offerings.

Preparing Future Faculty (PFF) Programs

Preparing Future Faculty Seminar (graduate student priority, postdoctoral scholars welcome to apply)

Preparing Future Faculty Web Resources

Postdoctoral Short-Course on College Teaching in Science and Engineering (postdoctoral scholars only)

What's It Like... Panels

Certificate programs (graduate students only):

U-M Graduate Teacher Certificate (GTC)

GTC+, certificate in teaching with digital media, co-sponsored by the Institute for the Humanities

Consultations

CRLT provides individual, confidential consultations to U-M instructors on a range of topics related to teaching and learning. See our consultations menu for the range of options or to schedule a consultation.

Professional Opportunities

CRLT employs experienced GSIs to consult with graduate student instructors across campus about their teaching. Learn more at the links below.

Engineering Teaching Consultants Program

Graduate Student Instructional Consultants (GSICs)

Resources for GSIs

Consultations on Department GSI Training

Departmental GSI Development: A Handbook for Faculty and GSIs who Work with GSIs

Workshops for GSIs and Faculty Coordinators of GSI Training

Publications